

Beautiful Table Silver and Cut Glass

Interesting Values Worth a Place of High Honor in the Home.

We make a specialty of Table Silver and Cut Glass, and among the hundreds of extraordinary values in the Housefurnishing Sale none are more attractive than Silver and Cut Glass.

Nothing would be more appreciated as a bridal or birthday gift than a beautiful piece of Cut Glass or Fine Table Silverware.

None better in the most exclusive jewelry stores, and what a difference in the price!

We make a specialty of the very best and most reliable Table Silver, in Sheffield and quadruple plate on pure white metal; also, Sterling Silver for bridal gifts, anniversary occasions, etc., and our stock is always kept well stocked and complete.

Cut Glass Oil Bottles, new, rich, deep cutting, $1.89.

Beautiful Rock Crystal Cut Glass Vase, $3.98.

Cut Glass Mustard Jars and Saucers at $1.50.

9-inch Cut Glass Bowls, fine, rich cuttings, extra good value, at $7.69.

8-inch Cut Glass Bowls, several different shapes and designs; special at $5.00.

8-inch Cut Glass Bowls, deep cuttings; our special, $3.69.

Cut Glass Compots, deep cuttings, excellent value at $2.98.

10-inch Cut Glass Vase, rich, deep cuttings; special value, $5.98.

2-quart Cut Glass Water Pitcher; special, $5.98.

Specials in Table Silver

Six Sterling Silver Salt Spoons, in a beautiful white lined box; per set of six, special, $1.25.

Sterling Silver Cream Ladles, Bonbon Spoons, Sugar Spoons, and many other useful items; special, $1.00 each.

Roger Bros.' 1847 Orange Spoons, in charter oak and vintage patterns; six to a box, special at $2.50 per box.

Individual Butter Spreaders, inlaid patterns; special, per box of 6, $2.50.

Berry Spoons and Gravy Ladles, special at $1.00 each.

Miller & Rhoads

OFFER TO HELP YOUNG IMMIGRANT

Arthur Skinner Says Miller Gave Him Little Aid Towards Securing Employment.

LATTER ENTERS DENIAL

Another Immigrant Asserts That Encouraging Letters to English Newspaper Were Faked.

In consequence of the article which appeared in yesterday morning's issue of The Times-Dispatch ten people have come forward and offered to give employment to Arthur Skinner, the young Englishman who came to Virginia with the hope of securing a position affording a sufficient salary to live upon and to have a little left over for the support of his mother, grandmother and two sisters still living in the Old Country. The names of the ten people offering him employment were furnished him last night, and he will begin the morning interviewing them to get the best that can be offered.

Got Little Help. According to his own statement, the young Englishman failed to receive the help he had expected from the department of the Commissioner of Agriculture, and he was left, a comparative stranger in a strange land, to do the best he could for himself. He managed to secure employment for a few days with the National Window Cleaning Company, but the nature of the work brought on neuralgia of the shoulder, and he was forced to give up his position.

He went three times, in company with a friend, to the Richmond Locomotive Works, but failed to get a job. Then he went to several mills, failing with them also, and since he has been getting something to do, he has been getting $55 in his pocket, having paid his fare across and his hotel expenses after landing. Of that sum he has nothing left, and if it were not for the kindness of his friends at 633 South Church Street, where he has been staying while in Richmond, he would have had to seek the aid of some organization of charity.

Skinner stated last night that on December 5, a few days after he landed in New York, he went to see Mr. Miller, of the Department of Agriculture. He stated that Mr. Miller was not very encouraging, but finally sent him to see a farmer near Petersburg.

Received Collier. The farmer wanted the Englishman to look after four mules, some cows and pigs and to make himself generally useful. Because he did not know how to milk, and because, he states, the farmer was unwilling to teach him, he refused the situation, and went to see Mr. Miller again. The latter, he says, informed him that he could do no more for him, as he had come out at the wrong time of the year. "I am a fruit-grower and gardener," said the young immigrant, "and I have no knowledge of the care of horses or of dairy work, but I am willing to work if only I can get the chance. At the Department of Agriculture they received me coldly, and indicated that because I was not an owner of land I was not desirable."

Mr. Miller stated in self-defense last night that the young man came with a letter of introduction or of recommendation, as is usually furnished by the Immigration agents, and that, consequently, he was unable to recommend Skinner to any farmer, especially as many of the immigrants who had dropped in as Skinner had done had been turned back on them.

He said also that all immigrants pay their own fares. He stated that the letters of introduction and of recommendation came from the Immigration agents, but did not state how the Immigration agent happened to know so many of the names of the immigrants. He said that he had been furnished by one of the people now living at 633 South Church Street, who was one of the English immigrants brought over from the old country after Mr. Collier's visit.

She stated that some time after she had been in Virginia she received from a friend in England a clipping from the Western Times of the United States, which, she stated, was a letter from her and others, and how much they liked this country for them. "I never knew of the letter until I saw the clipping," she said, "and no one had any part in sending such a letter to England. And as for the money we were making in the employment we had at Ishersville, I will say that my husband got $20 a month and I got a quarter a week."

She laughed rather disdainfully. Arthur Skinner's case was taken up by the Horticultural Society of Virginia, and S. S. Guerrant, of Calhoun, president; Stuart Bell, of Winchester, secretary; and Walter Whitely, of Albemarle, treasurer, have offered to help him. Mr. Whitely is an Englishman himself, but the other two are Americans. They have offered to give him employment as Dr. E. C. Levy, of Staunton, A. L. Adamson, of Manchester, J. A. Connelly, of East Market Street, J. N. Whitely, of the United States District Court; H. C. M. Johnson, of 911 East Main Street, and Mrs. R. C. Henry, of Henrico county.

Skinner is from Halstead, a small town, England, eighteen miles from London, where his mother, grandmother and two sisters are living. He said he would not think of bringing them out until he had become settled.

LOVE IS YOUNG
Groom Twice Widower and 65.
Elopes With Spinster of 75.

George Saunders, twice a widower, and although three years and a day, with a heart as young as a girl, made a third matrimonial contract yesterday when he eloped with Miss Annie Fox, a maiden lady, who confessed to seventy-five birthdays. The happy couple left Richmond on an early train for Washington, where they were married, and where they are now honeymooning. Mr. Saunders is from Halstead, a small town, England, eighteen miles from London, where his mother, grandmother and two sisters are living. He said he would not think of bringing them out until he had become settled.

C. & O. Statement. The controller of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway has issued a statement of the earnings and expenses for the month of December, 1909. The report shows that the gross earnings are $24,832.42, an increase over December, 1908, of $1,100.00, with the increase of $118,000, making the net increase earnings for the month of December, $128,945.19. From July 1 to date the net earnings of the railroad show an increase over the same period of last year of $1,112,974.17.

Sheltering Arms Concert. The Sheltering Arms Society will give a concert at the Jefferson Hotel Auditorium on the evening of February 4. Miss Eloise Taylor will be the vocalist and Ernest Burmaster the pianist. The patronesses will be Mrs. Marvin Patterson, Mrs. Thomas Adkins, Mrs. Kate Blankenship, Mrs. Belle Johnson, Mrs. Evan Chesterman, Mrs. Alex. Sande, Mrs. A. H. Burr and Mrs. W. D. Thomas.

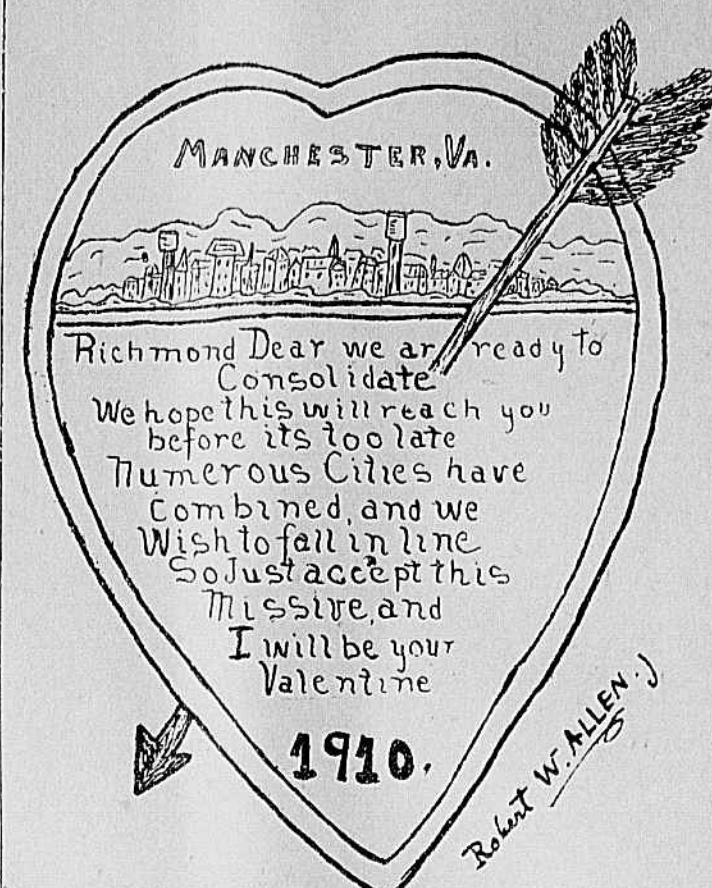

Building Permits. Building and repair permits were issued yesterday as follows: J. W. Taylor, to erect a three-story brick structure on the east side of Union Street between Franklin and Grace Streets, to cost $25,000.

R. L. Turpin, to erect a two-story frame residence, 1200-1202-1204 Chaffin Street, to cost $2,200.

Mrs. S. B. McVane, to repair a frame dwelling, 1819 Venable Street, to cost $200.

Marriage Licenses. Marriage licenses were granted in the Henrico County yesterday to Arthur H. Wertz and Ruth Alice Holm, and to William J. Scott and Margaret Shepherd.

SMALL BOY'S PLEA FOR CONSOLIDATION

RICHMOND'S VALENTINE

Even the children are working to bring about the consolidation of Richmond and Manchester, for they appreciate the advantages of living in a greater city. The drawing was made by Robert W. Allen, Jr., a member of The Times-Dispatch Club, Young Allen for several years lived in Manchester, but now resides in Richmond. He is anxious to do his part towards uniting the two cities.

GOVERNOR MANN HAS BUSY DAY

Rush of Callers and Flood of Letters and Congratulatory Telegrams Continue.

Governor Mann's first official act yesterday morning was the appointment of L. L. Brown as a notary public for Bedford City. The second was the confirmation of the appointment of Rives B. Hardy, of Nottingham, as assistant secretary. Mr. Hardy entered into his new duties at once. He will be associated with Private Secretary Ben P. Owen, who holds over from the former administration, and in the minds of many has become by right of position "assistant Governor" of the Commonwealth.

The office throughout the day was thronged with callers, all sorts and conditions of men and women coming to shake the new executive by the hand, and to all he gave a cordial greeting. It required the most suave diplomacy on the part of the secretaries to keep the procession moving, and to work in a few minutes from time to time when the Governor could look over his mail and dictate a few important letters. Telegrams and letters of congratulation continue to pour in.

One of the first requests for the incoming Governor's attendance at a public entertainment came from Captain Tom Cunningham, who commands the city of Richmond tug, and is commander of the James River fleet. Captain Cunningham invited to Governor Mann to be present at the opening of the Boys' Reading Club rooms of the Third Presbyterian Church at 2515 East Broad Street on Saturday afternoon, and the Governor accepted at once. He will be called on for a brief address.

Later in the morning the Governor went to the mansion, where the entire family connection, including all collateral relatives, which had gathered for the inauguration, met on the steps of the mansion and had a group photograph taken, with Governor and Mrs. Mann in the center.

During the afternoon he attended the session of the State Farmers' Institute at the Jefferson Auditorium.

Caught on Freight. At the request of Chief of Police Reynolds, of Newport News, Jesse Poole, Pete Boykin, Itland Spivey and George Gaines, all colored, were arrested on an incoming freight yesterday afternoon by Policemen Bernstein and Spivey at the station. They were held for the Newport News authorities.

Larus Plots Sold Again. J. D. Carney & Son have closed the sale of the Larus Plots, Poushee and Grace Streets, to T. L. Blanton for $25,000 cash. This is the second time the same property has been sold to the same firm within the last month.

Takes Fugitives Back. Linwood Wagon (white) and Spottwood C. Stone (colored), who were arrested at the request of the Washington authorities, were taken back to that city yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Cox of the Metropolitan police force. Sergeant Cox came here for George Stone, was arrested soon after his arrival, and he went back with both.

Confession, Fined for Laboring at His Trade on Sunday. Appeals.

Blanchini, who was convicted at Seventh and Main Streets, was convicted in Police Court yesterday morning of the charge of laboring at his trade on Sunday, and L. C. Special Officer Keops, a confectioner on the opposite corner, was dismissed. Both places were reported by the Rev. Harry Smith, who asked Policeman Kellam to accompany him.

The officer did not see any sale in Rochelle's place, but did see a package being handed over the counter in the store, and conviction rested upon this evidence.

Blanchini was fined $10 and was placed under $100 security for twelve months. Harry Smith, counsel for the confectioner, appealed, and Blanchini was bailed in the sum of $300, with V. Donati as security.

MAN AND WOMAN DISCHARGED

Husband of Nellie Lange, Arrested in Alabama Hotel, Is Suing for Divorce.

Nellie Lange, wife of a street car driver, who was arrested in Alabama Hotel, is suing for divorce. The husband of the woman is suing for divorce.

Thomas Jackson and William Matthews, colored, charged with stealing coal from the Richmond Distilling Company, were sentenced to sixty days in jail.

J. T. Brown, colored, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct on a Hull Street car.

Charge Housebreaking. Ferris Dohson, colored, was arrested yesterday morning by Special Officer Pearce, of Henrico county, on a charge of breaking into the house of Harris Johnson and stealing therefrom $5.

Considering Liquor Licenses. Judge Witt has practically finished going over the list of applicants for liquor licenses for the coming year. The list of those granted will be made in a few days. There are some receiving more consideration, especially those at the city hall, and a decision as to these will be rendered after consultation with the Police Department.

JACOBS & LEVY, 705 East Broad Street

The height of fashion, refinement and elegance is reflected in our Full Dress and Tuxedo Suits

We are pleased to announce a Special Sale, beginning to-day, on these Superb Garments:

$40 Suits, - - $32.50
$30 Suits, - - $23.50
$25 Suits, - - $19.50

The Finest Suits and Overcoats AT REDUCED PRICES

Gans-Rady Company offer:

MEN'S SUITS, MEN'S OVERCOATS, MEN'S CRAVETTE COATS, Which Sold Up to $30 At $16

It's the final clearance sale of the season.

Gans-Rady Company

WILL BUY A COW IF BILL PASSES

Dr. Johnston Threatens Milkman With Discharge if City Cannot Inspect Supply.

COMMITTEE TAKES ACTION

Chamber of Commerce Will Appear To-Day in Opposition to Throckmorton Measure.

"If the Throckmorton bill passes I will discharge my milkman and purchase a cow," said Dr. George Ben Johnston, of the committee on health and sanitation of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday afternoon, when the committee adopted resolutions placing it on record as irreconcilably opposed to any measure that will take away from the city of the state the right to conduct milk inspections and control the supply. Dr. Johnston will represent the Chamber of Commerce before the House Committee on Agriculture and Mining this afternoon, and will present the resolutions.

John G. Walker, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire Is Opposed. Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

Dr. McGuire, of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, who presented the document to the committee, stated in open meeting that the death rate in Richmond, which was formerly higher from certain causes than any other Southern city, not excepting New Orleans, has greatly lessened, and that any measure that would take away from the city health authorities are largely responsible for present conditions.

CORN-GROWERS AWAIT AWARDS

Expert Praises Exhibit, Which Ranks With Best in United States.

COMMITTEE TAKES ACTION

Chamber of Commerce Will Appear To-Day in Opposition to Throckmorton Measure.

COMMITTEE TAKES ACTION